THE FORTY-FIRST REPORT
OF
THE DEPUTY KEEPER OF THE PUBLIC RECORDS.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY,

I RESPECTFULLY beg leave to submit to Your Majesty my Annual Report of the proceedings in the Public Record Office, for the year 1879.

I. FAC-SIMILES OF NATIONAL MANUSCRIPTS, &c., BY PROCESS OF PHOTOZINCOGRAPHY.

The operations have been continued during 1879, at the Ordnance Survey Office, Southampton, where Mr. William Basevi Sanders, Assistant Keeper of the Public Records, is stationed. Mr. Sanders has been in correspondence with the Dean and Chapter of every cathedral in England, in order to ascertain the number of Anglo-Saxon Charters still in existence, with a view to their publication, Part I. having been already published. Further details of these Charters and of another Work will be found in Mr. Sanders' Report for 1879, submitted to Your Majesty in the Appendix I. (No. 3),

II. CALENDARS AND TRANSCRIPTS.

The progress made in the Calendars during the year is mentioned in § IX.

A further portion of the Calendar of Exchequer Depositions for the reigns of William and Mary, Anne, and George I. is annexed to this Report (Appendix I., No. 1). The Calendar will be continued in the next Report.

In Appendix I., No. 2, will be found the First Part of a Calendar of the Norman Rolls of the reign of Henry V., commencing with the Rolls of the sixth year, and in continuation of a Volume published by the late Record Commissioners in 1835, entitled "Rotuli Normanniæ in Turri Londinensi asservati," edited by the late Sir Thomas Duffus Hardy, and comprising the periods between 1200 and 1205, and 1417 to 1418. The Calendar submitted to Your Majesty in this Report is in continuation of the Work above alluded to, but a different form has been adopted. This Calendar has been framed by Mr. A. C. Ewald, a Senior Clerk in this Department. The second portion of the Calendar is expected to be contained in the Forty-second Report.

A List of Calendars, Indexes, &c., in the Search Rooms of this Office, compiled by Mr. S. R. Bird, a Senior Clerk in this Department, is submitted to Your Majesty in the Appendix II. (No. 1). This List contains those Indexes which are placed in the Search Rooms and elsewhere, for the public use, without payment of fees, and will be convenient as showing not merely the Calendars, &c., which the public may consult, but also their nature and the period they embrace, with other information.

Of the Calendars of State Papers printed for sale (of which 105 volumes have been published), five volumes were published, and 416 volumes sold, in 1879, making a total of 11,424 volumes sold. The present state of these Calendars, not yet published, will be found in Appendix I. (No. 5). The volumes published in 1879 were :—

(1.) The Sixth Volume of the Calendar of Domestic State Papers during the Commonwealth, edited by Mrs. Everett Green, extending from 1st July 1653 to 28th February 1654. The principal Papers calendared in this Volume are those relating to almost the whole period of the Convention Parliament, its resignation, and the assumption of power by Cromwell as Lord Protector.

(2.) The Second Volume of the modern portion of the Domestic or Home Office Papers of the reign of George III., extending from 1st January 1766 to 31st December 1769, and edited by Mr. Joseph Redington, Assistant Keeper of the Public Records. The principal subjects in this Volume are the correspondence with the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; the affairs of the Empire of Morocco; the struggles for American Independence; riots in Jersey, and troubles in the Isle of Man; riots in London in connexion with Wilkes' trial; and other riots in Kent, Newcastle, and Oxfordshire.

(3.) The Fourth Volume of the Calendar of the Papers of the Treasury, extending from the beginning of 1708 to 1st August 1714 (the end of the reign of Queen Anne), also edited by Mr. Joseph Redington. The principal persons and events alluded to in this Volume are the changes in the office of Lord High Treasurer and the ceremonies on his appointment; Addison; Wm. Paterson; Wm. Penn; Lord Ranelagh; the poor Palatines; the Colonies; Marquis of Guiscard; the Russian Ambassador; Scotland; Stamp Duties; Trade and Manufactures; Medical Science; &c.

(4.) The Third Volume of the Calendar of Documents relating to Ireland, preserved in the Public Record Office, London, from 1285 to 1292 inclusive, and edited by Mr. H. S. Sweetman. The Documents calendared in this Volume relate to Accounts; Edward I. and Alienor, Queen Consort of Edward I.; Appointments; Chancery and Exchequer; Free Warrens; the Holy Land; Liberties and Franchises; Mines; Mint and Exchequer; Monasteries; Mercenaries serving in Ireland; &c.

(5.) Of the Calendar of Letters, Despatches, and State Papers, relating to the Negotiations between England and Spain, preserved in the Archives at Simancas and elsewhere, this is the first part of the Fourth Volume; its date extending from May 1529 to the end of December 1530; Don Pascual de Gayangos being the editor. In the Introduction, biographical accounts are given of the diplomatists, whose despatches form the most important part of the Volume; among them are Chapuys, Bonvalot, Santa Croce, Mai, Loaysa, Garay, Ortiz, Soria, Figueroa, Caracciolo, Niño, Perrenot, and Covos.

Mr. Rawdon Brown, who resides at Venice, has continued his Calendar of State Papers and Manuscripts, relating to English affairs, existing in the Archives, Collections, and Libraries of Venice and Northern Italy, for the Sixth Volume, Part II.; 42 sheets were in type at the end of the year 1879, and this Part is expected to extend to 1558, the end of the reign of Philip and Mary. Mr. Brown has transmitted to this Office, ten more Volumes of Transcripts of important Documents in the Archives of Venice relating to British History, making a total of 115 (c.) Volumes so transmitted.

Mr. William Henry Bliss has continued his researches in the Libraries and Secret Archives of Rome, and forwarded to this Office during 1879, 13 bundles of valuable Transcripts, making a total of 37 bundles sent in 1877, 1878, and 1879, which have been frequently consulted by the public. Mr. Bliss has also made Reports of his proceedings; and a Summary Report thereon, to 31st December 1879, is submitted to Your Majesty in the Appendix I. (No. 4). 18 Volumes of similar Transcripts, transmitted previously by the Rev. Joseph Stevenson, have been placed in the Search Office for public use.

M. Armand Baschet has continued, during 1879, his researches in the Public Libraries and Archives of Paris for Documents illustrative of British History, and made Reports of his proceedings. A large box was received from M. Baschet at the end of 1879, containing the collection of Transcripts made by him during that year.

III. CHRONICLES AND MEMORIALS OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND DURING THE MIDDLE AGES.

Nine Volumes of this series were published in 1879, making a total of 160 Volumes already published; and 1,328 Volumes were sold in the same year, making a total of 34,941 Volumes sold. A list of the publications in 1879, and of the works in progress at the end of that year, is given in the Appendix I. (No. 6).

IV. DOCUMENTS OF THE LATE MASTERS IN CHANCERY.

The examination into the Masters' Documents has been continued, as mentioned in former Reports. The new Rules and Regulations, pursuant to the Act 40 & 41 Vict. c. 55., are given in the Fortieth Report (§ I., and Appendix, Nos. 10 and 11). On 14th October 1879 the Master of the Rolls, pursuant to the Act 23 & 24 Vict. c. 149. s. 9., appointed Mr. William John Hardy to have the care of these Documents. The greater part of them still remain in the Office in Southampton Buildings, although in the charge and superintendence of the Master of the Rolls in like manner as other Records under the Public Record Act of 1838, there not being room in the Record Repository to receive them. Some Documents and the Indexes have, however, been transferred to the Repository. A few Documents relating to particular suits have, upon the lawful owners being ascertained, with the approval of the Treasury, and pursuant to the Act 40 & 41 Vict. c. 55. s. 2., been delivered to such owners or their solicitors. The number of applications was as follows (some applications having been refused for want of sufficient proof of right to search): in 1877 (from August 14), 9; in 1878, 18; and in 1879, 16. The amount of Fees received for Office Copies was, in 1877 (from August 14), 7 copies = 3*l.* 15*s.* 6*d.*; in 1878, 7 copies = 2*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.*; and in 1879, 1 copy = 7*s.* 6*d.* 95 additional boxes of Papers were transferred by the Clerks of Records and Writs to the Masters' Office in Southampton Buildings on 7th, 8th, and 9th July 1879.

V. FEES: GOVERNMENT AND OTHER BUSINESS, &c.

The amount of Business in the Search Office, and of Fees received, in 1879, is as follows:—

571 Copies	-	-	353	3	6
189 Attendances	-	-	153	17	0
			<hr/>
			£507	0	6

The total amount of Fees received, and paid to the account of the Consolidated Fund, from 1840, is 29,240*l.* 19*s.* 9*d.*

The number of registered applications for Records in the Search Office by the Public, in 1879, was 27,289, each application being on an average for more than ten documents. These do not include the daily inquiries for information, which are verbally answered and disposed of. 24,845 membranes and leaves were stamped before their production to searchers, a regulation which, without danger to the safety of the Public Muniments, cannot be dispensed with. This number is in addition to 13,587 membranes and leaves which were already stamped, and were reproduced, making a total of 50,567 membranes and leaves consulted by searchers in 1879.

The amount of work performed specially for Government Departments during 1879 is as follows :—

NUMBER of SEARCHES, INSPECTIONS, ISSUES, and RETURNS of GOVERNMENT PAPERS, for GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS, in 1879.

Departments.	Number of Searches or Applications.	Number of Inspections, Issues, Returns, &c.
Treasury - - - - -	69	854
" (Solicitor) - - - - -	20	67
Home Office - - - - -	79	826
Foreign Office - - - - -	208	614

Exchequer and Audit Office - - - - -	4	105
Patent Office - - - - -	67	75
Chancery - - - - -	2	5
Total - - - - -	1,141	11,646

The preceding table does not, however, give an adequate idea of the extent of business transacted in the Public Record Office for Government Departments, inasmuch as searches for, and references to, the Documents wanted, often occupy many days ; and long copies of Documents are frequently required, and made, for those Departments.

12,630 Books and Papers have been stamped before transmission to Government Departments. These are not included in the number stamped for searchers above mentioned.

The examination into the Documents belonging to the late Masters of the Court of Chancery has been continued, as previously stated (§ IV.).

The assistance afforded by the Record Officers to the Historical Manuscripts Commission has been continued (Fortieth Report, § VI.) ; and repairs of some Documents for the Commission have been executed. The operations on the Duke of Manchester's Papers have been carried on.

In the Fortieth Report (§ VI.) it is stated that Returns were in progress, for the Houses of Lords and Commons, of the names of Members returned to serve in Parliament. These Returns are not yet complete, and will occupy considerable time, as an Index to them is also being compiled.

VI. TRANSFERS AND REMOVALS.

Transfers of Documents have been made into this Office during the year 1879, from the Clerks of Records and Writs, Registrars' Office, and the Enrolment Office, Chancery; from the Crown Office, Queen's Bench; from the Foreign Office, and War Office; amounting to 138 rolls, 6,967 volumes, 3,123 bundles, parcels, portfolios, &c. Six boxes of Books and Papers relating to the Marine Regiments have also been received from J. H. Cooke, Esq.; 2 manuscript volumes of Martin's Indexes have been presented by Frank Milne, Esq.; and 11 volumes of Indexes by Sir Charles Edmund Isham, Bart., formerly belonging to Peter Le Neve, many of whose Indexes were previously in this Office.

VII. ARRANGEMENT, REPAIRS, BINDING, AND SIMILAR OPERATIONS.

The important duties of repairing and arranging the Records have been carried on in the usual manner during the year, viz., 6,559 volumes and bundles have been arranged; 7,572 membranes and leaves have been flattened; 8,351 membranes and leaves guarded; 4,836 membranes and 6,323 leaves repaired; 1,202 membranes and 6,036 leaves sewed; 8,896 membranes and leaves repaired by the process of sizing; 3 bundles, 490 volumes, and 5,650 leaves numbered; 13,038 volumes, bundles, and membranes stamped; 4,558 leaves collated; 1,766 bundles, &c., tied up; 270 rolls and bundles ticketed; 1,345 volumes dusted; many other Papers incorporated with the series to which they belong; 219 volumes bound, bindings repaired, &c.; slips of Indexes, &c., arranged alphabetically, &c.; lists of documents made, stitched, &c.; 84 Instruments on Patent Rolls entered in Calendar, numbered, and checked with Privy Seals; &c.

"What is the custom or 'acco' between them or out of the money coming for dying, & colouring are the county of Glouce, dyer, aged sixty years and upwards. "The custom and usage in trade between dyers and clothiers if the dyers supply and colouring, y ^e dyers in such cases do make good or allow for y ^e same to clothiers in y ^e 'acco' between them or out of the money coming for dying. And this depts. sayth that for his own part he hath frequently been obliged in such cases sometimes to take nothing and sometimes but half price for dying, and sometimes to take to the cloth so spotted and to pay the clothier for it. And this depts. hath for above forty y ^e known this to be y ^e custom and practice. "Samuel Butt of y ^e parish of Strowd, in y ^e county of Glouce, dyer. To y ^e sixth intery this depts. sayth that it is usual and customary for y ^e dyers to keep an 'acco' of the dying and colouring of y ^e cloths by them dyed, and to keep books and 'acco' of y ^e prices thereof, and to give in such 'acco' to y ^e clothiers to be perused by them and y ^e clothiers. And this depts. also sayth that y ^e rates and prices of dyeing do differ according to y ^e nature of y ^e cloths and y ^e variety of colours. And that y ^e usual price taken by this depts. for colouring of a cloth green is forty shillings, and for colouring of a cloth blew sometimes eight and twenty shillings, and sometimes six and thirty shillings, and other intermediate prices according to y ^e goodness of y ^e colours. And for woad of a cloth (which is a sort of blew put upon cloths p ^r parative to their being dyed black), sometimes five shillings and sometimes four and twenty shillings, and other intermediate prices according to y ^e goodness of y ^e woad. And for colouring of a cloth black generally sixteen shillings. And this depts. sues that no difference is made in y ^e prices of dying on 'acco' of y ^e different length of cloths or pieces of cloth which are half cloths (which cloths and pieces frequently happen to be sometimes more and sometimes less than just lengths). But this depts. sayth that often times in cases where y ^e pieces happen to be so much more than their just lengths as that y ^e apprehend they cannot afford to dye them at y ^e usual rates they make y ^e woad so much y ^e worse in propore on as may make them amends. To y ^e seventh intery this depts. sayth that if a cloth be spoiled by them in dyeing green or blew (which is when it is spotted or y ^e colour be so uneven as that y ^e cloth requires to be made a black) it is the custom to make allowance for y ^e same by charging y ^e clothier no more for dying such colour than if he had only put a woad upon it, but such allowance is not made on account of a cloth's not happening in y ^e colouring to hit a pattern, provided y ^e difference be not very great, &c., &c.

Hil.	8	Edward Strong, senior, Edward Strong, junior.	The most Noble John Duke of Marlborough, Sir John Vanburgh, knight, and the Attorney General.	"Bills or accounts of the building of the house or castle called Blenheim" (a gift of the British Parliament to the Duke of Marlborough, on account of his victory over the French at Höchstet or Blenheim, in Germany); situate at Woodstock, in the county of Oxford. Touching the unfinished state of said building, and the adjustment of the accounts for artificers' work and materials already supplied, &c., &c. "James Moore, of Short's Gardens, in the parish of St. Giles-in-the-Fields, in the county of Middx., gent., aged fifty years and upwards, on the party and behalf of the Duke of Marlborough, and twenty-one, on the part of the clerks of the works constituted by the late Lord High Treasurer Godolphin for looking after the building in question, called Blenheim House or Castle. And this deponent saith that he, this deponent, being, in the year one thousand seven hundred and seventeen, appointed by the said Duke of Marlborough to be surveyor or manager of the said building, and the said Robert, being appointed by the said Duke of Marlborough as an assistant to this deponent. He, this deponent, having occasion to inspect some of the bills relating to the said deponent's necessary information, did desire the said Robert to shew him the said bills, to which the said Robert answered that he had no such bills; and being asked by this deponent the reason thereof, the said Robert answered that he, the said Robert, never made up, prized, or adjusted any of the bills of the artificers employed in the said building, but that the same were made up, prized, and adjusted by Sir John (then Mr.) Vanburgh and Mr. Joyney, without him, the said Robert, and that all that he, the said Robert, did was the measuring of the artificers' work only. To the second and third inter-yes this deponent saith that in the year one thousand seven hundred and sixteen, Christopher Cass and Joshua Fletcher (being employed by the said Duke of Marlborough to finish the south-west and north-west towers of the said building from the heights to which the complain ^{ts} were allowed for carrying up the same, did, in the said year one thousand seven hundred and sixteen, at the request and expence of the complain ^{ts} , carry up the south-west tower to the height to which the complain ^{ts} were allowed for carrying up the same, the particulars whereof are mentioned or contained in the bill now produced and shewn to this deponent, at this time of his examination, marked (G.). And this deponent saith that afterwards, viz., in the beginning of the year one thousand seven hundred and seventeen, the said Cass and Fletcher complained to this deponent that they could not go on with their work on the north-west tower till the complain ^{ts} had finished so much thereof as they had been also allowed for; and likewise informed this deponent that there still remained more work which ought to have been done at the complain ^{ts} ' expence, the complain ^{ts} having been already allowed for the same. And therefore the said Cass and Fletcher desired this deponent to get her Grace the Dutchess of Marlborough's orders to press the complain ^{ts} to finish the work for which they had been allowed as aforesaid, particularly that of the north-west tower; and this deponent accordingly acquainted her Grace therewith, and by her order writ to them on account of that purpose, who answered that they were discouraged from being at any further expence because of the great array of debt due to them on account of the said building, but that if the Duke of Marlborough would please to lay down the money for the finishing of the great works as belonged to them to finish they would allow her Grace the same when they received the last payment due to them from the Government on account of the said building, or to that effect. Whereupon part of the said work so remaining to be finished by the complain ^{ts} was afterwards finished at the expence of the Duke of Marlborough, and cost the sume of two hundred sixty-nine pounds eleven shillings and sixpence in the whole . . . and the rest of the said work is yet unfinished." &c., &c. "William Lowndes, sen ^r , of Westminster, Esq., being a witness," &c., &c. "To the sixth inter-yes this deponent saith, that he, this deponent, and James Craggs, sen ^r (since deceased) and Wm. Sloper, Esq., in or about the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and fifteen, did several times meet at an office or house in Scotland Yard, to direct the application of the money which had been issued by virtue of His Ma ^{ties} Letters of Privy Seal at the Exchequer to

NO. 2.—CALENDAR OF THE NORMAN ROLLS—HENRY 5.

This Calendar completes the work begun in 1835 by Sir Thomas Duffus Hardy, the late Deputy Keeper of the Public Records, in his "Rotuli Normanniæ in Turri Londinensi asservati Johanne et Henrico Quinto Angliæ Regibus," and brings down the series to the year 1422, when the Norman Rolls cease. The collection is not an extensive one. "Only six Norman Rolls of the reign of King John," writes Sir Thomas Hardy, are now in existence, and they extend from the second to the sixth year of that monarch's reign. They are similar in form, language, and writing to the Close and other Rolls of the same period. It must not, however, be supposed that the Norman Rolls comprise every particular connected with the Anglo-French provinces. The Patent and Charter Rolls for the first five years of the reign of John also contain numerous entries relating to those provinces." On the seizure of the territories of John in France by Philippe Auguste, the Norman Rolls were necessarily discontinued, and it was not until an interval of two centuries had elapsed that the series again commence with the embarkation of Henry V. for Normandy, in the summer of 1417, to recover the lands of his ancestors. Of the Norman Rolls of Henry V., the following is a list :—

5 Henry V.	Part I.	8. Henry V.	Parts I., II., and III.
6 "	Parts I. and II.	9. "	Part I.
6 to 8 "	Part I.	10. "	Part I.
7 "	Parts I. and II.

The Norman Rolls of the reign of John and the Roll of the fifth year of Henry V. have been published by Sir Thomas Hardy in the work above mentioned; the Rolls now calendared in this report continue the series. It will be seen that the plan of the late Deputy Keeper of printing the documents in extenso has been abandoned, and the simpler process of condensing and translating the different entries in the Rolls adopted in its stead. The object of the Calendarer has been, whilst placing before the searcher a précis of every entry to be found recorded upon these documents, to take special note of any statement calculated to be of service to the historian, the antiquary, or the genealogist. A comparison between this Calendar of the Norman Rolls and the catalogue drawn up by Carte in the middle of the last century will at once show the difference that exists between the two works. Whilst Carte has contented himself with selections from the more important entries in the Rolls, the present Calendarer has not permitted his own judgment to enter into the question of accepting here and rejecting there, but has confined his labours to furnishing a faithful catalogue of the entire contents of every Roll. In the volumes of Carte lands granted to various persons, appointments to office, the issue of letters of safe conduct, and commissions of array are often briefly indexed as "de terris Normannorum datis diversis personis," "de diversis officiis datis," "de salvis conductibus," or "de diversis commissionibus pro monstris capiendis," the entries thus curtly dismissed frequently shedding much light upon the movements of the times, and in many instances affording information of great value to the genealogist. It has been the object of the present Calendarer to specify every name that is identified either with property or with office, and to insert all such particulars as will satisfy the ordinary inquirer, without a reference to the Rolls.

The entries to be found in the Norman Rolls divide themselves into several classes :—

The conquest of Normandy by Henry V. was marked throughout by great clemency. Though severe in punishing all who continued to resist his authority, the King was most lenient in the terms he offered to those who submitted to his rule and swore fealty to his cause. Every convent that did homage to him had its temporalities at once restored; every landowner who gave in his adherence to the representatives of the Sovereign had his estates returned to him; every citizen who surrendered to the English captains at the conquest of the town in which he was an inhabitant was confirmed in the possession of such property as he then held; whilst every widow who took the oath to the King continued to draw unmolested her income from her husband's estates. Such being the case, the greater portion of the Norman Rolls is consequently taken up in recording these acts of mercy and generosity. Entries like the following are to be found upon every membrane throughout the entire series of these Rolls :—

- "Restitution of its temporalities to the Convent of S. Mary of Bonport."
- "Grant to John le Vavasour and to Joan his wife, they having taken the oath of fealty, of the lands they held before the last descent of the King upon Normandy." Henry V. made his second descent upon Normandy

No. 2.—Calendar of the Norman Rolls: Henry 5.—continued.

Aug. 1, 1417, and to those who acknowledged his authority he gave permission to possess the property they owned before his arrival. Hence entries relating to grants of the lands held before Aug. 1, 1417, are of frequent occurrence.

"Grant to William Leteler and Joan Carbonnel his wife of their lands, on account of their submission at the surrender of the castle and town of Cherbourg to the King."

"Dower to Lucy de Brucourt, widow of Moradas de Rouville, knight, Robert Dollenon, esquire, and William Commin, knight."

The second class of entries is as full and important as the preceding. On the invasion of Normandy by the English, numbers of the Norman knights and gentry refused to do homage to Henry V. for their estates, and remained in open rebellion. The most powerful stayed within their castles until they were forced to surrender, whilst others, abandoning their châteaux and lordships, fled from the Duchy and sought shelter in Paris and the neighbouring provinces. The castles thus reduced and the estates thus deserted were confiscated and freely parcelled out by the King amongst his faithful followers. It will be seen that grants to the English of the lands of rebels and absentees form no inconsiderable part of this calendar.

Grants of office constitute the third class of entries. The posts thus conferred were very numerous. Comtés and Vicomtés were entrusted to the hands of the English nobles and the more distinguished knights. Knights and esquires ruled the different towns and castles as captains, bailiffs, and mayors. Favourite servants and poor adherents were appointed purveyors to the Royal Household. In certain of the large towns coiners and money-changers were nominated to superintend the operations of the mint and to uphold the purity of the currency. In the courts of justice, in the forests, along the banks of the rivers, and throughout the wilder districts of the Duchy, men held posts under the Crown as ushers and serjeants of the pleas of the sword, (placita spada, i.e. La Haute Justice,) as verderors and "sergents dangereux" (officials appointed to collect the dangeria or money payment made by forest tenants for leave to plough and sow in time of pannage or mast feeding) as water bailiffs, and as destroyers of wolves.

One class of appointments constitutes an important feature in these Rolls. The endowments of the Church in Normandy were among the most wealthy in France. The patronage in the gift of the cathedrals of Rouen, Bayeux, Avranches, Evreux, Séez, Lisieux, and Coutances was as princely as it was extensive, and only equalled by that of the numerous abbeys, convents, and priories scattered throughout the Duchy. Compared with the estates of the clergy, the property of the Norman aristocracy and landed gentry occupied a very secondary position. On the conquest of the Duchy, Henry, in spite of the temptations which the wealth of the Church offered to an independent victor, declined to sanction spoliation or confiscation. Provided the clergy did him homage, they remained undisturbed in their possessions; the bishops were permitted to enjoy their revenues, and convents and abbeys had their temporalities restored to them. The Norman rolls deal very fully with these matters and offer information of no little value to the ecclesiastical historian. Upon their membranes are enrolled the names of those bishops and abbots who declined to take the oath of fealty; the religious houses which had their revenues forfeited or confirmed; the canonries and prebends which fell vacant; the monasteries which received the Royal permission to collect the wine which was the growth of their own vineyards; the priests and friars who obtained letters of safe conduct to travel; the lawsuits which took place; and other entries of a similar nature. Of the religious houses to which reference is made in the Norman Rolls, the following are among the most important:—

Engrossed upon these Rolls are also several documents of a diplomatic character,—the treaties entered into between the King and the Duke of Brittany, the truces and prorogations of the truces between the King and the Duke of Burgundy, the commissions to the English ambassadors to lay before the Dauphin the demands of the King as to peace, and the negotiations between the King and the Duke of Burgundy with regard to the marriage of the Princess Catherine, will all be found here carefully set forth and enlarged upon.

Commissions of array, letters of safe-conduct and protection, commissions to exact homage, licenses to various towns to levy taxes for the repair of their walls, pardons, writs of livery, regulations as to the control of the salt warehouses and the sale of certain articles, and grants of letters of attorney, complete the more important entries recorded upon these Rolls.

As it has been a matter of some difficulty to identify in every instance the names which the towns and districts mentioned in the Norman Rolls anciently bore with the names by which they are now designated, the following list, which it is hoped may be of service, has been drawn up:—

THE NORMAN ROLLS.

HISTORICAL SUMMARY.

[Charles the Sixth of France, a monarch of unsound mind. Struggle for the regency between the Duke of Orleans, the brother of the King, and the Duke of Burgundy, his cousin. The Parisians, together with the bulk of the nation, oppressed by the taxes of the Duke of Orleans, espouse the cause of the Duke of Burgundy. On the side of the Duke of Orleans are the Dukes of Berry and Bourbon and the Counts of Alençon, Eu, Richemont, and Armagnac. The Duke of Burgundy draws troops from Burgundy and the Low Countries, makes himself master of the person of the King, and proclaims all who resist his authority as rebels. Determined to govern the kingdom without interference, the Duke of Burgundy causes the Duke of Orleans to be assassinated by Raoul d'Octonville. Civil war ensues. The young Duke of Orleans resolves upon revenging the murder of his father, and attacks the provinces of the Duke of Burgundy. Each of the rival dukes now demands help from Henry of England. At first, assistance is rendered to the Duke of Burgundy, but afterwards Henry, having no wish to see the civil war at an end and the Duke of Burgundy the master of France, takes the part of the House of Orleans. The Duke of Clarence lands at La Hogue with 10,000 men. This invasion causes a peace to be concluded between the Dukes of Burgundy and Orleans, who regret seeing their country wasted by the stranger. The English, however, decline to retire until their services are handsomely compensated. They demand 240,000 crowns, of which they receive 140,000, and return to England with the Count of Angoulême and other French nobles as hostages for the payment of the remainder of the debt. Jealousies again spring up between the Houses of Orleans and Burgundy, and hostilities are resumed. Henry V. considers the moment favourable to his ambition and lands at Harfleur August 4, 1415. He is accompanied by his brothers, the Dukes of Clarence and Gloucester, his uncle the Duke of Exeter, his cousin the Duke of York, the Earls of Warwick, Kent, Windsor, Suffolk, Stafford, and a powerful army of followers. Harfleur is captured. Defeat of the French at Azincourt. On the Duke of Orleans and the flower of the French aristocracy being carried prisoners to London, the Duke of Burgundy intrigues for supreme power, and many places in Normandy declare in his favour. Henry V. lands at Touques August 1, 1417, with a formidable army and begins the conquest of Normandy. Caen, Bayeux, Lisieux, Evreux, Verneuil, Argentan, Domfront, Alençon, Falaise, S. Lo, Coutances, Avranches, Pont-Orson, Carentan, Valognes, Cherbourg, Louviers, Pont de l'Arche, are forced one after the other to surrender to the English. Through the mediation of the Pope a conference takes place at Pont de l'Arche between the representatives of England and France to consider the terms of a peace. Henry demands the hand of Catherine of France, the daughter of Charles VI., and as her dowry the provinces of Normandy and Guienne, with a part of Picardy, en toute Souveraineté. France declines to be despoiled of her territories and the conference is broken off. After an obstinate siege Rouen capitulates. The English then capture Dieppe, Montivilliers, Fécamp, Arques, Eu, Neufchâtel, Gournay, Chaumont, Vernon, Honfleur, Aumale, Meulan, and Ivry. A second conference takes place at Meulan to consider of a peace. Henry demands the hand of Catherine, a million of gold crowns, and the districts of Normandy, Guienne, Saintonge, Poitou, Angoumois, Limousin, and a part of Picardy. These conditions are refused and the conference is again dissolved. Peace is concluded between the Duke of Burgundy and the Dauphin at Poilly. The terms of the peace not being observed by the Duke of Burgundy, the Dauphin requests an interview. A meeting between the two is held at Montereau, when the Duke of Burgundy is assassinated by one of the indignant followers of the Dauphin. To revenge himself upon the Dauphin, the young Duke of Burgundy proposes a treaty of alliance with the English and to re-open the negotiations for the marriage of Catherine. Henry consents. The treaty of Troyes is signed, which renders Henry the husband of Catherine and the future King of France. Henry becomes possessed of Paris. Sens, Montereau, and Melun yield to the English. Return of Henry to England to recruit his forces. The Duke of Clarence governor of Normandy. Battle of Baugé and death of the Duke of Clarence. Return of Henry to Normandy. The Earl of Salisbury governor of Normandy. Victories over the Dauphin by the united English and Burgundians. Death of Henry V.]

No. 3.—MR. SANDERS' ANNUAL REPORT for 1879 on FAC-SIMILES of ANGLO-SAXON CHARTERS, &c., photozincographed at the Ordnance Survey Office, Southampton.

Ordnance Survey Office, Southampton,

February 1st, 1880.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to submit to you the following Report upon the work performed at this office under my superintendence during the past year.

The transference of the carbon prints of the original Anglo-Saxon Charters belonging to the Deans and Chapters of Westminster and Exeter continues as rapidly as the exceptionally heavy current work of this office will permit; and to these collections has been added one belonging to the Dean and Chapter of Wells, which has been photographed, and of which a description is hereto appended.

With the view of ascertaining the number of all the original Anglo-Saxon Charters still in existence in England, and their whereabouts, I have been during the year in correspondence with the various individuals and corporate bodies who I thought might have some of these valuable records in their keeping, and among others with the Deans and Chapters of every cathedral in England, some of whose collections I have personally inspected, and from all of whom, with one exception, I have received valuable information.

The result of my inquiry goes to indicate that only two Cathedrals are known now to possess any in addition to those of Canterbury, Westminster, Exeter, and Wells, which have already been published or are in course of preparation, and that the number of private collections in the same category is limited to very few.

Of these Cathedrals, Winchester has two: one of King Æthelwolf,
A.D. 854, the other of Eadwig, A.D. 957, and Worcester has only one of Offa of Mercia, A.D. 770.

The MSS. belonging to Ely being about to be catalogued, no information could be obtained as to whether they comprise any Anglo-Saxon Charters or not, and the same may be said of St. Paul's.

The Salt Library at Stafford contains one of Æthelstan, A.D. 937, to which I called attention in my last Report under the description of
No. 1 of the Exeter Charters, and the Taunton Museum possesses one, ascribed to Ini of Wessex, A.D. 702 or 706.

The Library of Winchester College possesses four very fine Charters, of the dates respectively of Eadward the Elder, A.D. 900, Æthelstan, A.D.
924-41, Eadmund the First, A.D. 940, and Cnut, A.D. 1018. These are remarkable for the extent of their boundaries.

The collection at Longleat, belonging to the Marquis of Bath, contains two, one of Baldred of Mercia, A.D. 681, and one of Eadred, A.D. 955.

And that at Melbury, belonging to the Earl of Ilchester, contains five, which passed, with other muniments, to Sir Giles Strangways, on the dissolution of the Monastery of Abbotsbury; namely, Eadgar, A.D. 965,

No. 3.—Mr. Sanders' Annual Report for 1879—continued.

Cnut, A.D. 1024, Eadward the Confessor, A.D. 1044, the Guild of Orey or Urk, the Founder of the Monastery of Abbotsbury; and a grant by Tole his widow. These two last are undated; but the license granted to Tole by Eadward the Confessor to bequeath her property to Abbotsbury, is printed in the Diplomatarium under the year 1045.

These, as far as I can certify, are all the Anglo-Saxon Charters that remain uncopied, excepting of course those in the British Museum.

But with regard to other Anglo-Saxon MSS. many of interest still remain in the Chapter Houses of several Cathedrals, such as, for example, the Evangelarium at York, on the fly-leaves of which have been entered a charter of Cnut, some homilies of Archbishop Uulfstan, the "Bidding Prayer" used in the Minster prior to the Conquest, and other documents in Anglo-Saxon; the Bull of Privileges granted by Pope Nicholas II. to Bishop Giso at Wells; some leaves of a Saxon homily at Taunton; the 9th century MS. of Bede at Lincoln; the interlined Psalter at Salisbury; and the "Textus Sancti Ceddæ" at Lichfield.

While examining the records belonging to the Cathedral of Winchester I was fortunate in being the means of discovery by the energetic Librarian, the Reverend Francis Madge, of several very valuable Charters to the Cathedral, being confirmation Charters of previous sovereigns up to Eadward the Confessor, two of whom, in Anglo-Saxon, are recited, and two of William the Conqueror, one in Anglo-Saxon and the other in Latin. Among these charters was also the original grant, abounding in curious information, of the great Fair of St. Giles, at that time one of the most important in Europe, to the Bishops of Winchester by Edward the Third. A contemporaneous copy of Nicholas Trivet was also discovered, which seems to have been hitherto unknown. With the exception of Edward the Third's Charter, which is in fine condition, most of these Charters had suffered greatly from neglect, one especially of Henry IV. was almost reduced to dust; but I undertook to endeavour to restore it, and with the help of Company-Serjeant-Major Palmer of the Royal Engineers, of whose talents and assiduity in the forwarding of the particular work entrusted to me here I cannot speak too highly, succeeded in doing so.

In the course of my investigations I came across a number of early Norman Charters, dating from the Conqueror to King John, a period prior to the enrolments, and of which there consequently exist no duplicates. Such are to be found in the Chapter Houses of Canterbury, Exeter, Wells, Rochester, Hereford, Salisbury, Lincoln, Durham, and Worcester, the Library of Lambeth Palace, and the Muniment Room of the Corporation of Southampton.

This last and that of the Corporation of Winchester I inspected by permission of the respective Mayors. Southampton, as might be expected from the prominent position which it has assumed in certain phases of English History, and its commercial dealings with Gascony, and the neighbouring parts of France in the 14th and 15th centuries, possesses many documents of interest, going back to a remote period. Among these is a copy of the "Laws of Oleron," variously ascribed to Queen Eleanor of Aquitaine and her son Richard "Cœur de Lion."

Among the MSS. preserved in the Chapter House of Worcester is one which is labelled as a copy of King John's will; but which Nichols, in his collection of wills, has printed as the original.

The single Anglo-Saxon Charter now remaining in the Chapter House of Wells is one by Edgar, "King of the Mercians, Northumbrians, and

No. 3.—Mr. Sanders' Annual Report for 1879—continued.

Britons," in 958, of land at Staunton-upon-Arrow in Herefordshire to his thane Ealhstane. Among the witnesses are the bishops of Lichfield, Worcester, who was translated to York in the same year, and Worcester, who was translated to Canterbury in the following year, Hereford, Elmham, and Lindsey. It will be observed that this charter was given during the reign of King Eadwig, although dated by Eadgar in the second year of his reign over the Northern provinces, which had elected him King on their revolt in 956–7. This estate appears to have been situated between the "Watling Street" and "Offa's Dyke," both of which seem to be referred to in the recital of boundaries, wherein, as usual, much interesting topographical matter is to be found. A reference to the Ordnance Map will show that "Sned Wood," "The Black Thorn," and the "Long Yards" still remain; but of the three "gates" along the "street" I can find no traces. At the conclusion of the boundaries is a note that King Eadgar also gives Hay in Hereford to Ealhstane in perpetuity. I can find no notice of the existence of this Charter anywhere. It is not in the Codex or Diplomatarium, or Wanley's lists; and Hickes makes no allusion to it. It is singular as to the style adopted by Eadgar in his subscription and the character of its handwriting, and is the earliest original charter granted by that Prince as yet known.

It is unfortunate that in the course of years—in some cases very few in number—the Anglo-Saxon Charters once possessed by various Cathedrals have disappeared. Worcester, at one time very rich in them, now possesses but one, and that imperfect, and only recently restored to the Chapter House. Eleven fine charters, printed by Dr. Thorpe, from the originals at Rochester are no longer to be found there. Others, which so recently as the period of the publication of the Codex, are there referred to as being then in existence in different Cathedral collections, are gone, and one instance has come to my knowledge of a remarkable Charter having disappeared within a much shorter time; while another, of great interest from the locality to which it refers, belonging to the same repository, is also absent. Of the nine charters, quoted by Wanley as belonging then to Wells, none remain; and that which is now there is not one of those, and has nothing to do with either the diocese or the county.

The Treasury having sanctioned the printing of a new edition of the Fac-simile of the Black Letter Prayer Book of 1636, in consequence of the old edition having been sold out, and a great demand still existing for copies; new transfers were made in cases where the old plates had become too much worn, and the printing was commenced in January and completed in August last.

I beg to mention the following gentlemen to whom I am indebted for assistance in my inquiries, the Earl of Ilchester, the Deans of Wells, Winchester, Worcester, Ely, Chichester, Chester, Hereford, and York; Archdeacon Woollcombe of Exeter, Archdeacon Jacob of Winchester; Canon Lear of Salisbury, Canon Venables of Lincoln, Canon Lonsdale of Lichfield, Canon Raine of York, Canons Meade and Bernard of Wells, Canon Jackson of Bristol, Canon Greenwell of Durham; the Chapter Clerks of Chichester, Wells, York, Hereford, Worcester, Norwich, Carlisle, Durham, Ripon, Peterborough, Gloucester, Windsor, and Ely; the Registrars of Chester, Ely, and Peterborough; the Mayors of Winchester and Southampton; Mr. Mazzinghi, Librarian of the Salt Library at Stafford, Mr. Kirby, Bursar of Winchester College; Mr. Madge, Librarian of Winchester Cathedral; Mr. Overall, the Guildhall Librarian; Mr.

Holmes, the Librarian of Windsor Castle; Mr. Majendie, Librarian of Gloucester Cathedral; the Rev. W. Hunt of Congresbury; Mr. Bidgood, Assistant Secretary of the Somersetshire Archæological Society; Mr. Maxwell Lyte, and Mr. Dickinson of Kingweston.

My thanks are also due to Dr. Pusey, and especially so to the Rev. James Skinner of the Hermitage, Bracknell, and the Rev. R. Spranger of Hursley, for suggestions as to the interpretation of the Proems to some of the Charters now in course of reproduction, and to Mr. Davidson for continual assistance in identifying the boundaries recited in the Exeter Charters.

No. 4.—REPORT of MR. W. H. BLISS to the MASTER OF THE ROLLS on his RESEARCHES among the ARCHIVES in ROME, in 1877, 1878, and 1879.

MY LORD,

Rome, 20th December 1879.

IN accordance with the desire expressed to me by the Deputy Keeper of the Public Records, I have the honour to submit to your Lordship the following short statement of the work done by me in Rome since January 1st, 1877.

I.—Documents of the 16th Century.

First Half.—Resignations, compositions, appointments, promotions, and other papers relating to the dioceses and religious houses of England, Scotland, and Ireland, 460 items.
Letters and other documents, chiefly political, 190 items.

My predecessor having sent a large number of papers of the early part of this century, I have not found many in the years 1501–33 that remained to be copied, but the field of research for this period is by no means yet exhausted.

Second Half.—Documents relating to dioceses, &c., 62 items.

Negotiations, instructions, and letters to and from nunzios, agents, and private persons, 420 items.

Among the letters in this century are those of the Emperor Maximilian, Eric X., the Kings of Spain and France, Margaret of Austria, Don John of Austria, Henry VIII., Queen Elizabeth, James V. of Scotland, Queen Mary of Scotland, the Duke of Albany, Odet de Foix, Lisle Adam, Duchesse d'Anjouleme; of Cardinals Allen, Wolsey, Pole, Morone, Farnese, Caetano, Borromeo; of Guidiccioni, Poggio, Sadoletus, Juan de Silva; the bishops of Faenza and Ceneda, and other nuncios in France; of Marino, Grimano, Melancthon, the Archbishop of Rossano, O'Neill, the Archbishop of Consa, the Archbishop of St. Andrews, Bishop of St. Asaph, Giulio Acquaviva, Mendoça, Guido Lolgi, Cuthbert Tonstall.

II.—Documents of the 17th Century.

First Half.—400, principally of the early years of the reign of James I., and the letters of Rossetti, 1639–41, with the answers of Cardinal Barberini.

In this period the letters of Guido Bentivoglio, during his nuntiature in Flanders, are valuable; others of his nuntiature in France, recently published from the drafts, have been collated with the originals that are in Rome. The letters of Matteo Barberini, afterwards Urban VIII., and of Ubaldini, of O'Neill, of Cardinal Aldobrandini; Letters from Rome to the Nuntio in Spain; Letters of Clement VIII. and Paul V., whose minute on the Spanish match exists in autograph; are of importance. A series of letters from F. F. Parsons and Cresswell, Irish prelates and religious, Tyrone and Tyrconnell; of persons connected with the English colleges at Rome, Douay, St. Omer, Seville, and Valladolid; are not without interest.

Second Half.—130 letters, principally of Royal personages, and of Mons. Adda, Nuntio at St. James'.

III.—From 1370 to the end of the 15th Century.

Relating principally to the dioceses of England, Scotland, and Ireland, about 500 items.

The political papers of this period have not yet been examined.

The above-named documents have been sent to England in 37 parcels, during the years 1877, 1878, 1879.

IV.—Documents of the 13th Century.

These are so numerous that it has been thought better by the Deputy Keeper of the Records that I should, for the present, send no more than a list of them, and from this list a selection can be made from time to time for those who desire a copy of any particular paper. This list is begun to be made, but it will be many months before all the documents of this century can be examined.

In selecting documents to be copied, I have felt that the responsibility of omitting any that related to England, or to Englishmen, was greater than that of inserting them. I have therefore omitted none, in which reference is made to English politicians or persons, except those, which, according to my instructions, I am directed to pass by, relating exclusively to ecclesiastical controversies. Some of the papers or extracts may appear to be trivial, but the mention of a name or incident, however brief it may be, will, when it falls into its place in the Calendar of Papers, be of service to those who are making research. The information contained in the papers copied in Rome for the Record Office is not all new; but it may be that statements of known facts, written by those who were on opposite sides in the times in which they took place, will help to bring out the truth. Many of the documents copied have not been hitherto seen or read by any but those to whom they were originally addressed. In the absence of a library of books of reference it has not been possible to avoid selecting papers of which copies may exist elsewhere. It will be found that among the documents of the first half of the 17th century there are several which contain new information, and there still remain many papers of the reign of Charles I. that will be of no less interest or value than those already copied. I have reason to think that there are still many papers of the 16th century to which it is desirable to obtain access; and as I have found that in each year I have been permitted to extend the field of research, I hope that facilities will be given me as time and money enable me to take advantage of them.

I have, &c.,

(Signed)

WILLIAM H. BLISS.

"Ayloff's Calendars" Duchy of Lancaster.	A collection of Miscellaneous References to the Duchy of Lancaster Records, compiled by Benjamin Ayloff, the Keeper of the Records, and known by his name. 10 vols., as follows:			54
Vol. 1 - - -	"Great Ayloff"	"1692" - - -	This volume contains, in addition to a general view of the records in the Duchy Office, a great variety of references to Grants, Inquisitions, Surveys, Privy Seals for Grants of Offices and other matters, with memoranda as to the business and jurisdiction of the Duchy. The references have, however, in most cases been superseded by later calendars. Folios 195 to 265 inclusive comprise a valuable Index to Decrees and Orders relating to Commons, Mills, Tolls, Fisheries, Tithes, Enclosures, &c., arranged under Counties and Names of Places , from Edw. 4. to 17 Chas. 1.
Vol. 2 - - -	"Ayloff"	"1695" - - -	Contains an account of Depositions and Surveys relating to Commons, Boundaries, Mills, &c., from Hen. 7. to 1698, selected from the respective calendars for their special interest. Also a selection of Special Warrants and Special Commissions for Surveys, &c., from Eliz. to Chas. 2.
Vol. 3 - - -	"Ayloff"	"1704" - - -	Contains a calendar of Decrees and Orders from 1660 to 1687, arranged under Counties and Places , with a list of Decrees as to the Title of Lands , &c., in the Duchy jurisdiction, from Edw. 4. to Eliz., and an account of the names of the Grantees in Fee-farm , from Eliz. to Chas. 1., &c., &c.
Vol. 4 - - -	"Ayloff"	"1712" - - -	Contains a Calendar of Pleadings , Edw. 6. and Mary. Superseded by the printed calendar.
Vol. 5 - - -	"Ayloff"	"1715" - - -	Contains a Collection of all the Grants of Lands in the counties of Northumberland , Cumberland , Westmoreland , and Lancaster , from the creation of the Duchy to 1715. [The grants mentioned are all indexed in the vol. entitled "Index to Grants in Fee."]
Vol. 6 - - -	"Ayloff"	"1718" - - -	Contains a Calendar to the Counterparts of Leases granted by the late Queen Mother and the late Queen Dowager, from 1641 to 1705.
Vol. 7 - - -	"Ayloff"	"1718" - - -	A rough note book entitled "Directions for Searches."
Vol. 8 - - -	"Ayloff"	- - - - -	A collection of divers searches, &c. This vol. contains notes respecting various searches made in the Duchy Records, with references to the documents, and an Index to the Matters and Places mentioned.
Vol. 9 - - -	"Ayloff"	- - - - -	A vol. entitled "Particulars of Duchy Leases," 1661 to 1716, giving full particulars of the leases during the above period, with observations thereon.

(Bills, Answers, and Depositions.)	Index	1649 to 1714	59 vols., MS., called "Six Clerks' Books." After the appointment of the Six Clerks of the Court of Chancery, the records were treated to a great extent as documents falling under the immediate control of these officers individually, and consequently fell into six divisions, each division bearing the name of one of the Six Clerks. The first 33 vols. of the Six Clerks' Books contain the records from 1649 to 1714, with a few of earlier dates, arranged in the six divisions above named, and to some extent in alphabetical and chronological order; but to the greater portion no further clue to the date is given than is contained in the title "Bills, &c., filed before 1714," so that in most cases in order to find a bill filed between the years 1649 and 1714 it is necessary to search the whole of the 53 vols. covering that period.	98

Description of Record.	Nature of Calendar, &c.	Period embraced.	Remarks.	No.
			as well as the 3 vols. of Miscellaneous Chancery Proceedings from Hen. 6. to Jas. 2. From 1714 to 1842 the proceedings are somewhat better arranged, though still in six divisions. They are entered in the Six Clerks' Books under the dates at which they were taken from their respective studies (generally after the expiration of six Terms), and are arranged alphabetically, according to the plaintiffs' names, under the heads of "Pleadings," "Single Bills," "Study Matters," or "Depositions." It frequently happens that the several proceedings in a suit are entered in the Six Clerks' Books at different times. Thus, the bill may appear in one bundle, and each of the answers in bundles of other dates. The title of the suit is also often varied, according to the name of the defendant making answer. The Six Clerks' Books since the year 1714 are in three sets, extending respectively from 1714 to 1758, 1758 to 1800, and 1800 to 1842. The name of the clerk in whose division search is to be made may be obtained from the "Bill Books."
	Index	1842 to 1860	67 vols. MS. An alphabetical "Index to the Pleadings" (Bills, Answers, Depositions, &c.), under plaintiffs' names. Since the abolition of the Six Clerks in 1842, the whole of the proceedings in Chancery suits are filed together and arranged alphabetically year by year.	99
	Bill Books	1673 to 1852	156 vols. MS. These books contain entries of all the Bills filed in Chancery, arranged alphabetically, year by year, according to the names of the plaintiffs. In the margin are given the names of the respective Six Clerks (and of their sworn clerks) who had the conduct of each suit. The Bill Books thus enable the searcher to refer to the division in which the records are indexed, and also to the Clerk in Court's Book or Record , which is kept at the Record and Writ Clerks' Office, and which gives the dates of the various proceedings in each suit, with the names of the Solicitors, &c. The Bill Books from 1673 to 1713 are imperfect and the marginal references useless, but from 1714 to 1842 the series is complete, and the names of the Six Clerks, &c., are given in full. After 1842 the Bill Books contain, instead of the names of the Six Clerks, numerical references to the files of pleadings, and give in the margin the names of the Vice-Chancellors .	100

Indentures, &c. Chancery.	Index	1573 to 1876	56 vols., MS. These indexes were transmitted from the Chancery Enrolment Office, and refer to documents of various kinds enrolled on the Close Rolls (including Indentures of Bargain and Sale, Indentures of Lease and Release, Deeds Poll, Disentailing Deeds, Recognizances, Certificates of Naturalization, Memorials of Assurance Companies, &c., &c.), the indexes being arranged alphabetically under the names of the Grantors . (For the names of the Grantees , see Index to "Close Rolls.") From 1680 to 1842, these indexes are made up in four Divisions, distinguished by the letters B, Y, E, and N, corresponding to the several Entering Seats in the Enrolment Office, amongst which the documents were distributed according to the Counties to which they related; thus, Div. B. contains Anglesey, Brecknock, Cornwall, Carmarthen, Carnarvon, Devon, Glamorgan, London, Middlesex, Surrey, and Somerset. Div. Y. contains Bedford, Chester, Derby, Dorset, Hertford, Notts, Northumberland, Oxford, Rutland, Stafford, Suffolk, Westmoreland, Warwick, Lincoln, Sussex, and Berwick-upon-Tweed. Div. E. contains Berks, Bucks, Cardigan, Denbigh, Essex, Hereford, Kent, Monmouth, Pembroke, Southampton, Wilts, and Haverfordwest. Div. N. contains Cambridge, Cumberland, Durham, Flint, Gloucester, Huntingdon, Lancaster, Leicester, Merioneth, Montgomery, Norfolk, Northampton, Radnor, Salop, Worcester, and York. If the document does not on the face of it relate to any particular county, Division B should be searched for it. From 1680 to 1771 the indexes are in two sets, one containing Divisions B and Y, the other Divisions E and N. From 1772 to 1842, all four Divisions are in the same volume. The sub-division into Counties ceased in 1842. In the above indexes the Recognizances are entered separately, at the end of the Indentures in each year, till the year 1872, when they are entered in separate volumes.	297
